Proposed Draft Variation (No. 1) of Dublin City Development Plan 2016 – 2022 Designating Haddon Road and Victoria Road, Clontarf, as an Architectural Conservation Area

PROPOSAL

It is proposed to vary the Dublin City Council Development Plan 2016-2022 by designating Haddon Road and Victoria Road, Clontarf, as an Architectural Conservation Area (ACA).

Haddon Road/ Victoria Road ACA extends in broad terms, north from Clontarf Road and returns east/ west along Victoria Road to encompass terraced, semi-detached and detached late Victorian/Edwardian dwellings and includes the front and back gardens of these dwellings.

The exact boundaries are delineated on the attached map, by the red-lined area and are described in the text of the Architectural Conservation Area Report.

Purpose of the Variation:

The purpose of an ACA is to protect and enhance the special character of the ACA by:

- Ensuring that all new development is carried out in a manner sympathetic to the special character of the area,
- Encouraging the reinstatement and enhancement of existing structures in a manner sympathetic to the special character of the area.

The Haddon Road/ Victoria Road Architectural Conservation Area is located approximately four kilometres north east of the city centre, approximately 1 kilometre to the west of the busy village/ residential suburban area of Clontarf.

The architectural conservation area focuses on a core of late Victorian/ Edwardian dwellings along tree-lined roads. Haddon Road is a short residential road that runs on a north-south axis connecting Clontarf Road with Victoria Road to the north. The dwellings on Haddon Road are mainly red brick, two storey in height, laid out in 3 no. east/ west facing terraces, no. 4 semi-detached plots and no. 2 detached units, on modest plots with short front and larger rear garden areas. At the southern end of the ACA, is a larger semi-detached unit (no's 89 & 90) facing onto Clontarf Road.

Victoria Road is also a short residential road that runs on an east-west axis from The Stiles Road to Castle Avenue in the east with a variety of red brick, two storey, terraced and semi-detached dwellings set on modest plots with short front and larger rear gardens and a more substantial detached building at the north west boundary. No's 22-32 (even) and no's 29-49 (odd) Victoria Road, are included within the ACA, all currently on the RPS and are to be deleted, except no. 29 which is to remain on the RPS as a good exemplar of Victorian suburban development..

The special architectural and historic interest that justifies the designation of Haddon Road/Victoria Road as an Architectural Conservation Area is derived from the following features:

- It forms part of the surviving late Victorian suburbs dating from the 1890s that characterize the development of the city outside the canal ring after the arrival of efficient public transport.
- Overall, the street is a catalogue of late Victorian/Edwardian architectural detailing. As speculative developments, they were designed to be as eye catching as possible. These new modern suburbs were connected to the city by public transport trams. The strong visual quality of the brick and rendered buildings and the rhythmic architectural pattern provide a homogenous and attractive built environment with eclectic detailing.
- The street has retained much of its original character and architectural integrity.
- The streetscape setting is enhanced by the front gardens and trees that line the pavement which both contribute to a sense of open space. This includes the special character of the original front gardens separated by simple railings and hedges with ornate front railings retained. The gardens of the original houses are largely free from large areas of hard landscaping and vehicular entrances. There are only three vehicular entrances on Haddon Road and one on Victoria Road.
- The quality usage of historic building materials in the boundary treatments of the historic buildings, historic lamp posts and post box.
