Central Area “Don’t feed the Bird” signs

The Central Area have developed don’t feed the bird signs in key areas such as Smithfield Plaza, Wolfetone Square and Stoneybatter Dublin 7

There is a high prevalence of people feeding seagulls and pigeons.

Feeding pigeons and gulls in particular can cause nuisance, not just from the birds themselves but also by attracting other vermin to food which falls to the ground.

Generally the advice given is that feeding these birds unbalances their natural numbers and can cause illness and restrict their ability to find natural food stuff.

Fencing erected at laneway adjacent to Rawlton House, Sherrard Street Lower

The Central Area office has erected a fence adjacent to Rawlton house. The area in question was a blackspot for dumping. The temporary measure will be monitored.
