Councillor Name	Alison Gilliland
Conference/Seminar Name	Common Purpose Dublin Profile
Conference/Seminar Topic	Dublin City: Leadership Challenges
Venue/Location	Various within Dublin City
Date (s) of Conference	Wednesday 4th & Thursday 5th September 2019

Brief Summary

The 2 day experiential training course explored key challenges within Dublin City with key City actors including the future of work in the city, cultural diversity and sustainability, shaping Dublin's growth and development, ensuring a safe, sustainable environment.

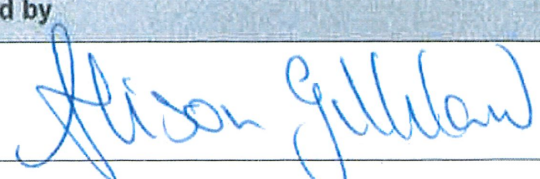

Course participants were drawn from the private, public and not-for-profit sectors allowing for consideration of differing perspectives and experiences of our city, its workings and its environs. The course afforded participants the opportunity to engage and interact in a full discursive manner with leading actors in the City.

Recommendations

As a DCC Councillor I found this course very beneficial and worthwhile. It allowed me engage with city leaders in the areas of transport, culture, business, justice, innovation and community. It also afforded me the opportunity to discuss city challenges with these leaders and with the other participants on the course who were drawn from a wide range of sectors across the public, private and not-for-profit areas. Aside from the insights gained it also afforded me exposure to alternative perspectives and experiences which contributes to my role as an analyst and decision maker in the DCC Chamber.

Declaration

I certify that I attended the above-mentioned Conference/Training Seminar.
