A Phríomhfheidhmeannach, foireann na Comhairle agus a chomh comhairleoirí

I dtús báire, ba mhaith liom fáilte a chur roimh na comhairleoirí uile anseo um thráthnóna, iad siúd a bhí atofa cheanna, ach go háirithe na comhairleoirí nua tofa. Tá súil agam go mbeidh 5 bliana fiúntacha againn go léir agus muid ag déanamh ionadaíocht ar mhuintir ár gceantair, sa bhealach is fearr gur féidir linn. [Ní neart go cur le chéile].

Chief Executive, DCC staff, fellow councillors:

Firstly, I wish to welcome all councillors here this evening, those who were re-elected and especially those new councillors here. I hope we all have a productive 5 years as we seek to represent our constituents in the best way we can.

Is mian liom mo bhuíochas a chur in iúl do mo chomh-chomhairleoirí agus le bainistíocht Chomhairle Cathrach Bhaile Átha Cliath as ucht an tacaíocht iontach a thug siad dom le linn mo thréimhse mar Ardmhéara. Ní mór dom freisin mo bhuíochas a ghabháil le sár-fhoireann Theach an Ardmhéara as ucht a ngairmiúlacht, a gcairdeas agus a gcomhairle i rith na bliana. Is iad atá mar bhunsraith don Oifig, ag obair go síoraí agus muid ag teacht agus ag imeacht ó Theach ársa an Ardmhéara.

I wish to thank my fellow councillors and DCC management for your tremendous support during my year as Lord Mayor. I must also thank the brilliant staff in the Mansion House for their professionalism, friendship and advice during the year. They are the constant as we pass through the great historic building that is the Mansion House.

I would also like to thank my Deputy Lord Mayor Kathleen Carney Boud (as she moved through the fair) who is not here tonight and to all the councillors who stepped in to deputise during the year.

It has been my privilege, honour and pride to have served as first citizen of this great City and to see first-hand the amount of community activity and volunteerism that goes on very hour of every day to give back to the less well off, the young, the elderly and the marginalised. These were the people I reached out to so that every citizen had an equal right and opportunity to visit the Mansion house or have the Lord Mayor visit the. 40,000 came through the front door of the Mansion House. I had over 1,200 external public engagements in schools, homeless hubs, hostels, care homes, senior citizen clubs, football clubs, sports clubs etc. I had over 1,500 senior citizens in for Afternoon Tea in the Mansion House over the year to show the city's appreciation for their immense contribution to our city. I won't mention the speeches.

I have had a great opportunity to witness, first hand, the amazing amount of work done by DCC through the city. Our parks and library services are world class – I attended the opening of the refurbished Kevin Street Library, the opening of the city farm in St Anne's park, the rose festival etc and of course did 38 park runs covering each of the city parks several times. Thanks Fanchea for making me get up every Saturday morning!

Our sports and wellbeing section did their bit to keep me active and somewhat fit. I rowed down the Liffey (twice), ran and cycled through the city (LM Chain)

Other highlights included the Papal visit, the LM Charity Ball which raised a record amount of over 100k for three charities, Hugh's House, the Irish Guide dogs and Jack and Jill and the Lord Mayor awards which went to people who have contributed significantly to Dublin.

It was an historic year for the Mansion house with the celebration of the First Dáil held in the Round Room on 21st January 1919, the same day as the start of our War of Independence. Michael MacDonnacha has written a wonderful book on the somewhat unknown role of the Mansion House during the revolutionary period.

Christmas is a magical time in the city and the lighting of 9 buildings and 4 bridges by DCC was a huge hit with Dubliners and visitors alike. This was a brilliant initiative. In the Mansion House we had our live animal crib, our choir and for the first time this year a very special Sensory Santas Grotto – inside the Mansion House and catering for children with autism. 350 saw Santa on their terms over the weekend before Christmas. I hope the new Lord Mayor will continue this initiative.

To my wife Joyce, the Lady mayoress I thank you so much for your support, assistance and advice over the year. To my four sons, my mam and all my friends and relations I also say thank you. It's been a wonderful journey and I hope Lord Mayor Number 350 has as exciting and wonderful journey as I have had. Baile Átha Cliath Abú

Gabhaim míle buíochas le mo bhean chéile, Bean an Ard-Mhéara, Joyce , as ucht do chuid tacaíochta, cúnamh agus do chomhairle i gcaitheamh na bliana. Le mo cheathrar mac, le mo le mo mháthair, le mo chairde agus mo ghaolta, táim fíor bhuíoch. Go raibh míle maith agaibh.

Aistear den scoth a bhí ann agus tá súil agam go mbeidh aistear chomh spráúil spreagúil céanna ag Ardmhéara uimhir 350 [trí chéad is a caoga] is a bhí agamsa.
Go raibh agaibh uile as eisteacht liom – Baile Átha Cliath Abú!

Remarks Made by the Lord Mayor of Dublin City,

Cllr Paul McAuliffe

7th June 2019, City Hall

I want to thank all those Councillors who have nominated me and voted for me tonight and those who I have worked with over the past ten years. Anyone who has spent time in this place knows that by working together we are often stronger.

The last two weeks since the election have also shown that many parties can come together to share their ideas, compromise with each other and ultimately put together an Agreement for Dublin City.

Ultimately Fianna Fáil, the Green Party, The Labour Party and the Social Democrats have come together to form a leadership group on this Council and I believe that together we have brought a progressive modern approach to many of the challenges which this city faces.

However we do not have the monopoly on ideas and you will see ideas in the Dublin Agreement which originated in the Sinn Féin proposal and from discussions with others.

It is an agreement where we seek to take strong leadership on this Council and work with the City officials as partners and as equal partners. There will be times when we will disagree with Management, with National Government but we will seek solutions in the same way we have over the past two weeks.

I want to thank the outgoing Lord Mayor of Dublin, Niall Ring. Whether you were in Croke Park or on a Park Run, the outgoing Lord Mayor has brought an energy and enthusiasm to the position and I intend to continue at that pace.

To the outgoing Deputy Lord Mayor Cathleen Carney Boud, I want to acknowledge your time on this council and the work that you did at both a local level and representing this city.

Together you served Dublin with Pride and we thank you for it.

To all those elected to the chamber for the first time. Many of you will have your family here. I remember my first meeting. It is an amazing honour to be selected by your community, it is both a privilege and a responsibility. Enjoy it, believe in your ability to change your community and contribute in this chamber to change your city.

Your family and supporters have given everything to ensure you are here tonight. I'd like to take a moment for all of us to thank those people who canvassed, posterred and dropped leaflets. They are the backbone of the democracy that we should never take for granted.

Amongst my team there was one man who has personified that for ten years. Jim Leonard has canvassed with me in the heat and the rain we have won and lost and had fun doing both. I know each of you have a Jim Leonard in your campaign team and long may people like him come forward to protect our democracy.

I want to thank My Mam and Dad who I know will be emotional tonight. It was their contribution to my community as a small business owner, as a playgroup coordinator, in summer projects and with local charities that taught me how important it was to work hard and play your part. They in turn had seen it with their parents, my grandparents who moved to Finglas when it was just a small village. They did so at a time when Ireland was penniless, yet they could start a family knowing they had affordable housing. It transformed their lives. 60 years ago and the generations my family since.

This council will again lead on public affordable housing for all. We will do it on our lands and we will do it as the lead developer. Housing is a social issue, but it is also an economic issue one. Our failure to tackle housing has damaged families and damaged the competitiveness of this city. The solutions must be delivered, and we will lead by example.

We will also take a lead on Climate Action. It was a key issue discussed by voters on the doorsteps. We now have a mandate and a demand from Dubliners to take action.

We will also lead on the issues of Illegal dumping, antisocial behaviour and open drug dealing through our relationships on the joint policing committee.

I look forward to joining those parties to the agreement next week in formally publishing the Dublin agreement and in placing it before this council for adoption. I want to see it as the work plan for each of our committees and I hope it will be included in the goals and actions in the Local Economic and Community Plan. The Dublin Agreement has a mandate and I invite the City officials to examine it and work with us to deliver it.

Finally, I want to speak personally about what this means to me. To be chosen to be Lord Mayor of Dublin City is a special honour. I feel a huge responsibility. With so little time to prepare I have to admit to being a little overwhelmed. But I promise you that the experience I have gained in this chamber and outside this chamber will be put to use. In the Gallery sits my wife my son and my daughter. But they have stood by me over the past decade. Millie was born on the first day I was elected this chamber. Hugh two years later. In the same way generations before me passed important values on to me, I hope to do the same to them but I know It has been and will be Ciara who has given them the values that make them such special people and that's because she has been so special to me. Thank you to Ciara, thank you Councillors and Thank you Dublin.
