3. New Strategic Heritage Plan

Charles Duggan, Heritage Officer, Dublin City Council, gave a presentation. This was circulated prior to the meeting. The following were the main points of the presentation;

The Heritage Plan is a set of priorities the Council agrees with key stakeholders across the pillars of archaeology, architectural heritage and cultural heritage. It is project-managed by the Heritage Officer working closely with key professional officers – City Archaeologist and Conservation Officer, and increasingly with the Public Art Manager, amongst others working in the cultural heritage sector.

Through the Heritage Plan we strive to:

- Deepen our understanding of the archaeological, architectural and cultural heritage through research and dissemination,
- Improve the management of our heritage,
- Raise awareness by providing broad public access to high quality heritage information.

Funding the Heritage Plan:–

Currently there are three sources of funding to support the implementation of the Heritage Plan:

1. County Heritage Plan Grant Scheme (Heritage Council) - an annual scheme applied for in January. This year grant funding of €50,000.00 was been awarded under three streams: to 4 projects: Heritage management and research; community archaeology; exhibitions and interpretation. This is a significant increase on the €23,000.00 allocated to County Heritage Plans for the last number of years.
2. Creative Ireland Fund - €7,000.00
3. Irish Walled Towns Network (Heritage Council). Applications accepted for projects to interpret and conserve town walls.

Some of the issues raised were to do with local engagement and the heritage of urban villages including dialect, music, the history of science and oral history. Material also needs to be accessible to people with sight impairment.
